The six sections of the questionnaire

The interactive LawsAndFamilies Database is based on the LawsAndFamilies questionnaire, which consists of six sections:

- Section 1 – Formalisation
- Section 2 – Income and troubles
- Section 3 – Parenting
- Section 4 – Migration
- Section 5 – Splitting up
- Section 6 – Death

Papers and an interactive database

For each jurisdiction there are therefore six papers like this one. And each of these papers contains the full answers, references and explanations (given by a legal expert for the jurisdiction concerned) to the questions in one of these six sections. All these papers can be found in open access at www.LawsAndFamilies.eu. There the user also has access to the interactive part of the LawsAndFamilies Database, which can be used to search the whole database and to create comparative overviews for different questions, different years, different countries and/or different legal family formats.

This website also contains references to publications analysing the results of the project, and to some other legal, sociological and statistical publications about same-sex and different-sex families. And it gives information about the methodology used for this questionnaire and database.

About the questionnaire

The full text of the questionnaire can be found in the paper:

K. Waaldijk, J.M. Lorenzo Villaverde, N. Nikolina & G. Zago, 'The LawsAndFamilies questionnaire on legal family formats for same-sex and/or different-sex couples: Text of the questions and of the accompanying guidance document', FamiliesAndSocieties Working Paper 64(2016), www.familiesandsocieties.eu.

The Guidance document contained in that paper, asked the experts answering the questionnaire to make several assumptions. These included the assumption that the partners have been living together as a couple already for at least two years. Plus the assumption (except for certain questions in Section 4 – Migration) that both partners have the citizenship of the country where they are now both lawfully and habitually residing, and that this is also the country where their relationship would have been formalised and where it would be dissolved.

About the answers

This paper contains the answers, references and explanations – for one jurisdiction – to all questions in one of the six sections of the questionnaire. The answers are presented in columns. Each column is a coloured timeline, representing legal developments for one question for one legal family format.

The year at the top of each coloured timeline is the most recent year for which a question was answered by the author. In the timelines the years given above and below an answer indicate that the answer applied between a certain day in the lower year and a certain day in the higher year. The year "0000" means that the answer applied since an unknown year before 1965. See further the Guidance document.

The following answer codes and colours have been used:

Yes	Yes, this is so in the law of this country/jurisdiction, although possibly with a qualifying period of 24 months or less.
Yes, but	Yes, but with exceptions or restrictions, for example a qualifying period of 25 months or more, or only in most parts of the country/jurisdiction, or this is mostly a “dead letter”.
No, but	No, but it may be so exceptionally, or in a very limited way, or in a few parts of the country/jurisdiction, or indirectly, or by using a different legal instrument, or legislation says no while some courts might say yes.
No	No, this is not so in the law of this country/jurisdiction.
Doubt	The law is unclear (the law does not “know” the answer).
?	No information was available.
N/A	Not applicable (for example because this family format is not available in this jurisdiction, or not for same-sex or different-sex couples).
X	This question was not asked for this legal family format.
Open question	Question without answer codes like Yes and No.
Empty cell	For this year the question was not asked or not answered.

The six papers about Romania

The answers concerning Romania can be found in the interactive database and in the following six papers (all of which are published in open access in: K. Waaldijk et al. (eds.), The LawsAndFamilies Database – Aspects of legal family formats for same-sex and different-sex couples, Paris: INED, 2017, www.LawsAndFamilies.eu):

Formalisation of legal family formats in Romania by Iustina Ionescu (Section 1)

Income, troubles and legal family formats in Romania by Constantin Cojocariu (Section 2)

Parenting and legal family formats in Romania by Constantin Cojocariu (Section 3)

Migration and legal family formats in Romania by Iustina Ionescu (Section 4)

Splitting up and legal family formats in Romania by Constantin Cojocariu (Section 5)

Death and legal family formats in Romania by Iustina Ionescu (Section 6)

So this paper is based on Section 5 (Splitting up) of the LawsAndFamilies questionnaire, which contains questions about the following topics:

- 5.1 Dissolution by court
- 5.2 Agreed administrative dissolution
- 5.3 Unilateral administrative dissolution
- 5.4 Agreed informal dissolution
- 5.5 Unilateral informal dissolution
- 5.6 Dissolution by marrying someone else
- 5.7 Ending by conversion
- 5.8 Ending by marrying each other
- 5.9 Property at dissolution
- 5.10 Alimony
- 5.11 Parental authority
- 5.12 General background regarding splitting up

In the following pages of this paper, first the answer to question 5.12 is presented, followed by the answers to questions 5.1 to 5.11.

5.12 - General background regarding splitting up (Open question)

If you consider it useful to provide some general information or comments about (past, present or future) developments and trends in legal policy and case law in your country/jurisdiction, or information on other aspects (socio-legal, political, legal-cultural, etc.) that may be relevant for the understanding your answers above regarding splitting up, then please do so here.

Nothing to report.

Explanations and nuances: Alimony is not normally owed after marriage ends, except in some strictly defined circumstances. Thus, alimony is owed in case one of the spouses has become unable to work before, during or shortly after the marriage ended, provided the invalidity was caused by a circumstance related to marriage. Alimony is also owed in case one of the spouses has been declared guilty for the divorce, but only for a period of one year.		Explanations and nuances:		Explanations and nuances:
