INED is recruiting

2 senior tenured researchers
(directeurs de recherche, category 2)

INED will recruit two senior researchers in 2019. These tenured positions are open to senior researchers at a reader/professorial level, and concern all disciplines covered at INED: Demography, population sciences and other social sciences linked to demography.

The French Institute for Demographic Studies is a public research institute. Its missions include conducting cutting-edge research in all fields relating to demography and population studies; training junior researchers; and informing the general public of its research results and activities. With ten research units, INED encourages exchanges between disciplines and conducts a world-class research programme.

Post: Senior researcher (directeur de recherche, category 2)
Location: INED, Paris 20th arrondissement
No age, gender or nationality requisites
Competition opening date: 15th January 2019
Deadline for applications: 15th February 2019

Conditions of eligibility:
1. Applicants who have held a tenured research position for at least three years within a French research institute;
2. Applicants who do not belong to the French researcher corps but satisfy one of the following conditions:
   - Holding a doctoral degree awarded by a French university;
   - Holding a Doctorat d’État;
   - Holding a doctoral degree in engineering sciences;
   - Holding a post-graduate diploma in odontological sciences;
   - Holding a post-graduate diploma in human biology;
   - Holding a degree awarded by a foreign university and considered as equivalent to the above qualifications by the INED Evaluation Committee;
   - Can provide proof of conducting scientific research which is considered as equivalent to the above qualifications by the INED Evaluation Committee.

More information available at: